

APR 8
1:06
PM ET

WAC, MAC to play in Humanitarian Bowl

By Graham Watson
Email
Print
Share

The Mid-American Conference and the Western Athletic Conference have agreed to a four-year deal to play each other in the Roady's Humanitarian Bowl.

The MAC will send its third bowl-eligible selection and the WAC is committed to send one of its top bowl-eligible teams based on the best fan draw for the game.

"We are so excited to have this agreement with the MAC and the WAC. These two conferences are known for playing a brand of explosive offensive football and a great tradition of winning teams that are really a lot of fun to watch," Roady's Humanitarian Bowl executive director Kevin McDonald said. "Last year's matchup delivered one of the most exciting bowl games of the year. We believe the game will always have that kind of drama and excitement for our fans."

Last year's Roady's Humanitarian Bowl, featuring Bowling Green and Idaho, which Idaho won on a late two-point conversion, equaled the game's all-time highest television rating on ESPN.

The Humanitarian Bowl replaces the International Bowl for the MAC. The International Bowl announced last month that it was folding.

Tags: WAC, MAC, Idaho Vandals, Bowling Green Falcons

Sort comments by: Most Recent | First Posted

SUBSCRIBE:

BLOG ARCHIVE:

Select One

CATEGORIES:

Select One

COLLEGE FOOTBALL BLOG NETWORK

College FB Nation

Vols' Simms ready to prove that he's the guy (39 minutes ago)

Former QB Bradshaw played role in La. Tech hire (4:30 PM ET)

College FB Nation Blog »

ACC ▶

Big 12 ▶

Big East ▶

Big Ten ▶

Pac-10 ▶

SEC ▶

RECENT UPDATES

Vols' Simms ready to prove that he's the guy (4/13/2010 5:34 PM ET)

Former QB Bradshaw played role in La. Tech hire (4/13/2010 4:30 PM ET)